Large Vote In Nova Scotia Is Expected Tuesday

People of Province, With Biggest List on Record, Prepare to Go to Polls

Closing Speeches By Party Leaders

HALIFAX (CP)—Sixty-one candidates for the 30 seats in the Nova Scotia Legislature today put the finishing touches to their campaign as tomorrow's voting hours drew near.

The leaders, Premier Angus L. Macdonald and Opposition Leader G. S. Harrington, each was billed to give one address this evening, the former at Springhill and the latter at Truro.

Voters totaling 319,000 are eligible to cast ballots Tuesday, largest number in the province's history. Prospects are for a big vote.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Atlantic Standard Time (4 a.m. to 2 p.m., P.S.T.).

Both the Premier and the Conservative leader are running in the constituencies that elected them in 1933. Premier Macdonald will remain in his riding of Halifax South election day. Opposition Leader Harrington will continue on to Sydney from Truro and receive the returns in Cape Breton South.

Opponents of both the party leaders are lawyers, both young men, and both entering politics for the first time in Tuesday's election. R. A. Donahoe of Halifax is opposing Premier Macdonald, while George Morrison, Sydney, is contesting Cape Breton South against Col. Harrington.

Besides the 30 Liberal candidates throughout the province and the 30 Conservatives, there is one Labor candidate.

Police Station Safe Is Robbed

Vancouver Officers Surprised to Find Chinaman's $500 Missing

VANCOUVER—There were red faces in Vancouver's city police station today as officers told newsmen $500 had been stolen from the safe in the station's general office.

The theft was discovered Friday. The money was deposited as bail for an unnamed Chinese charged with keeping a gaming house. It was placed in the general office safe because the police court clerk's office was closed at the time.

Then the Oriental's case was dismissed in court, and he asked the return of his bail. Officers went to the safe, but the money and its containing envelope has disappeared.

Police said they had seen the envelope earlier in the week. The Chinaman's bail was repaid from general police funds.

The body is believed to be that

STRAITH GETS SLIGHT EDGE

Gains Three Votes on McKelvie in Wards One and Two

With only minor differences from the election night counts the official count of the provincial election balloting in Victoria was pretty well through the big vote in Ward Three as Returning Officer H. E. A. Courtney and his tally men adjourned for lunch today.

Figures for Wards One and Two, given out this morning, made little or no alteration in the first count. Alderman W. T. Straith, Liberal, had seven added to his election night total and B. A. McKelvie, Conservative, added four, giving Straith a net gain of three in the two wards. Interest in the count centres around the margin between these two candidates, Mr. Straith being elected so far. There was but 81 votes difference in the preliminary count.

The final counts in several provincial ridings have now been forwarded to the Provincial Secretary's office here.

Esquimalt—E. V. Finland (C) 1,643, C. E. Whitney-Griffiths (L) 1,417, Don Smith (CCF) 766, J. W. Archer (Ind) 68, Mrs. A. C. Boydell (SC) 57.

of a man named Sauve from Hawkesbury, Ont. Andre Lampron, also of Hawkesbury, is in a hospital here suffering from serious burns. He is reported to have said a companion named Sauve was trapped in a flaming box car while he and two others escaped.

District rail headquarters here reported the wreckage was still burning shortly before noon, and a systematic search was not yet possible.

Reports 15 or 20 transients were trapped in the wreck were mere "supposition," officials said.

On Wedding Voyage to Hawaiian Isles

Smiling and happy after the ceremony that united them last Saturday in Hollywood, Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers are shown with some of the flowers that were sent them by many well-wishers from all parts of Canada and the United States. Today Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are aboard the Matson liner Lurline, steaming towards the Hawaiian Islands for their honeymoon.

Premier King On Berlin Visit Sees Youth Labor Camps

Canadian Leader Glimpses Nazi System Before Talk With Hitler

BERLIN (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today saw young Germany at work. It was a swift transition from Sunday among the Hitler youth camps, a transition from sport and play to the glorification of toil.

The Canadian Premier first saw Herr Hierl, head of the German labor camps. Then, under the guidance of Col. Muller Brandenburg, who wore a labor service uniform, he visited the camps themselves, where young men of all classes, stripped to the waist, were doing their compulsory six months' labor service before going into the army.

In the afforestation camp, romantically cast amid the pine fringing Webellin Lake, the party paused to try the simple fare of the labor camp. At a rustic table in a thatched building, constructed in the style of a German peasant's cottage, all took bowls of soup and glasses of fermented strawberry wine.

"Delicious," Mr. King commented.

PICTURESQUE PLACE

The camp is one of the picturesque places of the German labor service. Except for its mottoes it might be a holiday camp in the Canadian Rockies.

Young workers were questioned. All bronzed and healthy looking, they said they had plenty to eat. Several replying to Col. Brandenburg, said they were looking forward to joining the army. A couple wanted to be naval officers.

Prime Minister King's talk with Reichsfuehrer Hitler is expected to take place Tuesday.

Boys at Play Find $330 Cache

GLASGOW—Small boys playing "bank" with pound notes attracted the attention of police. Investigation showed the boys had found the notes in a black tin box in an abandoned house. Besides $330 in British notes there was an amount of German and Dutch money. The British notes bore the dates of the Great War years.

TOURIST CARS ARRIVING NOW

Resumption of Ferries Services Puts U.S. Autoists On Streets Here

Autos carrying license plates from the states of Washington, Oregon and California were to be seen on the streets here today with the resumption over the week-end of the ferry services which for the last month had been suspended by the Inland Boatmen's strike.

Customs officials checking car arrivals at the local docks expressed the opinion that several days would elapse before the real influx would start, as touring motorists were not yet fully aware that the strike had been settled.

"As soon as they learn that the ferries are operating they will begin to flock in," commented one official this morning.

"We have not had time to get into the tourist stride yet."

OVER 100 ARRIVE

It is estimated that more than 100 automobiles reached the city over the week-end by the Seattle and Port Angeles ferries and also those operating between Anacortes and Sidney.

Ss. Olympic made three trips from Port Angeles yesterday and brought in over 50 cars, while 10 were brought in by Ss. Iroquois, which made her first trip this morning from Seattle via Port Angeles.

MOSCOW—The execution of 37 more "wreckers" in the Soviet Far East was announced today from Khabarovsk, bringing to 131 the number of persons so "liquidated" in that area.

Doubts Length Of Fine Spell

Victoria Weather Man Says Sunshine Will Last Only Few Days

An endless parade of motor cars moved down the highways yesterday as thousands took advantage of the first sunny Sunday in three weeks to visit beaches and lakes.

The temperature reached a maximum of 71 degrees on Gonzales Hill yesterday, according to W. A. Thorn, director of the Victoria Meteorological Observatory. This is only considered moderately warm for the end of June.

The weather today is about the same with the mercury at 65 degrees during the noon hour.

Mr. Thorn doubts if the sunny weather will last more than a couple of days. Off the island conditions are not at all favorable, he says.

"There is no indication we are in for a long dry spell," he said. "On the other hand there is no immediate prospect of rain."

The Dominion Day holiday during the week is expected to be cloudy and cool.

SITE RESERVED AS PLANE BASE

Province Gives Dominion Allford Bay Land in Queen Charlottes

Selection of Allford Bay, on the northeastern corner of Moresby Island, in the Queen Charlotte Islands, as the site for a Dominion Government seaplane base was indicated here today with the announcement the province had reserved 55.5 acres there for the National Defence department.

The order states it will be used for a seaplane base.

It was announced some months ago that the defence programme for the west coast would include a base on the Queen Charlottes. The location of the Allford Bay site is approximately at the division of the two main islands, Graham and Moresby.

Last week, a grant of land at Allford Head was made by the province to the Dominion. This is to be used for batteries commanding the straits.

Guard Beaten By Two Convicts

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—A guard of the federal penitentiary was in a hospital here today following an attack by two convicts.

The convicts are in solitary confinement awaiting the launching of an inquiry. Identity of the two was not disclosed.

Only the intervention of other guards saved James McKenzie, guard, from almost certain death Saturday afternoon as he was about to be kicked over a steel railing in one of the cell blocks to the cement floor 50 feet below. He had first been beaten over the head.

Earhart Plane Now in Australia

Woman Flier and Navigator Prepare For New Guinea Hop

PORT DARWIN, Australia—Amelia Earhart and her navigator, prepared today for the "worst section" of their globe-circling flight.

"It's been a very interesting flight," said United States woman pilot after setting the silver monoplane down in northern Australia at 11:28 a.m., Monday (5:58 Monday afternoon P.S.T.) ending a hop from Keopang in the Dutch East Indies.

"But for slight mechanical trouble, which was remedied at Bandoeng, Java, we have experienced no holdups. We've been sitting down waiting for Australia to turn up and we'll push on to Lae, New Guinea, tomorrow morning," she explained.

"I'm not taking any risks, but am flying as fast as possible. From Lae to Howland Island will be the worst section of the flight, but with Freddy Noonan navigating I'm confident we shall make it."

MAN KILLED BY CAR

VANCOUVER—John B. Armstrong, 60, was instantly killed Sunday when struck by a shunted freight car in the Canadian National Railways yards here. He is survived by a sister in Cumberland, England.

had refused to sign labor contracts with the S.W.O.C.

C.I.O. leaders, commenting on claims of employers as to the number of men returning, declared the figures should be "discounted 50 per cent" and added, "we have just begun to fight."

TEOPOUS ON GUARD

Gen. Light, whose Ohio guardsmen, under orders of Governor Martin Davey, are policing the back-to-work movement in the Mahoning Valley, said 11,308 men entered Youngstown plants today and 4,299 last night.

At Sheet and Tube's Campbell plant, normally employing 10,000, he said 5,852 entered today and 1,525 last night.

At the Brier Hill plant of Sheet and Tube, the guard officer estimated 1,886 came through the gates today and 574 last night.

Republic's "Stop 5," which ordinarily has 6,000 employees, saw 3,270 men go to work today and 4,299 last night.

DOVER, Eng. (AP)—

Seven German warships passed eastward tonight through the Strait of Dover, at the eastern end of the English Channel, apparently having quit Spanish waters for home.

The flotilla included the cruisers Leipzig and Kohn, four destroyers and a submarine.

LONDON (AP)—A new spirit of modified optimism in some capitals was considered today to indicate a relaxation of fears the international crisis growing out of the long drawn-out Spanish civil war would provoke a general European conflict.

Two developments, however, in an otherwise calm week-end clouded the feeling of relief.

In Wurzburg, Chancellor Hitler told a party rally Germany will henceforth take independent action to protect herself from attacks by the Spanish government.

Hitler linked the Reich's interest in the fate of the insurgent regime with Germany's acute raw material shortage.

"It is generally known," he said, "we try to buy ores everywhere. Therefore, we would welcome a National (insurgent) government in Spain in order to be able to negotiate with it under normal circumstances."

In Valencia, the Spanish government announced a merchantman had been sunk Friday by a submarine and ordered a special vigilance fleet into service to sweep her waters of undersea craft.

LEADERS HOLIDAY

London, Berlin and Rome were calm. The heads of the governments were in seclusion at their respective country retreats.

Only in Paris and Moscow where there was a gloomy belief the last repercussions of the joint Italo-German withdrawal from the Spanish non-intervention patrol had not yet been felt.

The German Chancellor spent the week-end at his mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden, Bavaria.

Premier Mussolini, who has steered Italian policy on the same course with Hitler, left the heat of Rome for his country home.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain relaxed in the seclusion of "Chequers," his official country home. "The peace of Europe," he told the British House of Commons Friday, depended on calm thinking.

FRENCH VIEW

Paris conceded the situation was a little better, but a feeling persisted that the time had not yet come for optimism.

There was little hope found in the official press view in Moscow, where it was considered the danger of war has grown in the past fortnight. Until Great Britain and France act to halt alleged German and Italian intervention in behalf of the Spanish insurgents, Moscow held, the situation will continue acute, with the possibility of a general war.

Vancouver Man Is Injured By Thieves

VANCOUVER—Thomas Boomer, Winnipeg, was in a hospital today, recovering from a fracture of the nose and other injuries received when he interrupted three men who were tampering with his brother's car early Sunday.

Boomer told police he was returning to the house where he is staying when he saw the men standing beside the parked car. He grappled with them and knocked one down before he was overpowered.

The men escaped in the car, recovered later by police. They took Boomer's watch and money.

SOVIET FLIER RUMORED HELD

S. Levanovsky May Be in Russian Jail; Others Prepare to Fly to U.S.

MOSCOW—The unexplained absence of Sigmund Levanovsky, famed Arctic flier, from an official welcoming party for Dr. Otto Schmidt, returning last Friday from the Russian North Pole air base, led to reports today he had been arrested. Similar rumors arose over the absence from the party of General Y. I. Alksnis, vice-commissioner of defence and chief of the Red army air forces. Levanovsky last year led a trail-blazing plane on a flight from San Pedro, California, to Moscow in short hops by way of British Columbia and Alaska. During the flight, on August 8, he was forced down at Bella Bella, B.C., by fog.

Foreigners speculated that absence of the two men indicated the current wave of arrests within the army and elsewhere is continuing.

Alksnis and Levanovsky normally would have been present for the homecoming reception. Alksnis had been reported in difficulty a few days ago, but the reports died down temporarily.

NEW FLIGHT PLANS

Belief had been current in foreign circles that Levanovsky was making secret preparations for a second flight to the United States, to follow the Chekaloff party's flight to Vancouver, Wash.

Now, however, it is fairly well established other pilots are preparing for this attempt, which likely will be made before mid-July, with probably even greater secrecy than the one just completed.

There are reports also a third flight is in prospect later in the summer.

Mrs. R. Service Called By Death

Mother of the Yukon Poet Succumbs in Vancouver

VANCOUVER—Mrs. Robert Service, 83-year-old mother of Robert W. Service, the poet who gained fame as chronicler of Yukon and Great War tales, died here Sunday.

Mrs. Service was born in Preston, England, but came to Canada with her husband 30 years ago. She had been a resident of Vancouver for the past eight years.

Mrs. Service was predeceased by her husband, Robert Service. She is survived by five sons, John and Peter here, Joseph in Scotland, Dr. Stanley F. in Ottawa, and Robert W. in France, and one daughter, Mrs. D. N. Tot in Vancouver.

Her poet son is known as the author of "Songs of a Sourdough," "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man," "Ballads of a Cheechako" and other works.

Hepburn Clear On Labor Issue

Ontario Premier Means to Stop C.I.O. Leaders "at Detroit River"

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP)—"No one knows" where Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, stands on the Committee for Industrial Organization issue, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn told the midsummer convention of the 20th Ontario Liberal Clubs of Ontario here at the week-end. He reaffirmed his own stand as being opposed to "lawlessness and racketeering."

He said he had no objection to the organization of labor and the settlement of disputes by amicable means, but not when organization took the form of "a racket under a labor dictator whose only purpose is to take all he can get from the pay envelopes of Ontario workmen."

The Premier said he had followed the career of John L. Lewis, head of the C.I.O., from the time the latter started to organize labor. He said Lewis counseled lawlessness and advocated that labor take the law into its own hands.

Mr. Hepburn cited an incident which occurred in 1922 when, he said, 50 mine workers who refused to join the Lewis organization and were trapped in a mine pit were promised safe conduct to their homes if they came to the head of the shaft. The Premier said when the miners came to the surface they were lined up and 19 were killed and 31 wounded.

The Premier said Franklin D. Roosevelt at that time described the incident as "as atrocious a massacre as is contained in our annals."

"That is what he thought of lawlessness at that time before Lewis poured nearly half a million dollars into his campaign fund," Premier Hepburn said. "Well, they haven't poured any money into our campaign funds and we will stop them at the Detroit River," he said.

He estimated the annual revenue of the Lewis organization at $30,000,000 a year. He said he was opposed to setting class against class.

Denying a statement attributed to Mr. Rowe that there were 12 new taxes imposed and 12 government services discontinued since the Liberal administration went into power, Mr. Hepburn said he challenged Mr. Rowe or anyone else to name them.

TREATY SIGNED 18 YEARS AGO

PARIS (AP)—The Treaty of Versailles, 18 years old today, has been largely destroyed by Adolf Hitler's axe.

Separation of 1,803,879 square miles of territory in Europe, Africa, Asia and the Pacific islands and about 17,000,000 persons from Germany today constituted almost the only tangible evidence the pact was still in effect.

Eighteen years of steady German hacking have left only the territorial and colonial clauses intact.

All the treaty limitations on Germany within her own frontiers are gone. Reichsfuehrer Hitler swept away the last on January 30 when he abolished the right of the former allies to inspect books of the German State Railways and the Reichsbank.

LIBBYVILLE, Alaska (AP)—A United States territorial bureau of fisheries official, declaring Japanese off-shore plants could destroy Alaska's valuable Bristol Bay red salmon run in five to ten years, advocated today a "strong stand" by the U.S. government against foreign fishermen.

Fred R. Lucas, assistant agent of the fisheries bureau, returning from an inspection patrol, added to complaints which have increased since the start of the season's salmon fishing last Friday.

"The Japanese floating fish plants in Alaska territorial waters are a menace, theoretically at least," Lucas said. "It is plainly seen that with what experimental work they have done in Bristol Bay and Bering Sea and the type of gear tried they could easily cork this region."

"With the same gear Japanese off-shore plants used in Siberia it is entirely possible for them to destroy our run in from five to ten years."

SHIP OF 8,000 TONS

"While they are not actually fishing salmon now, there is one big ship of over 8,000 tons accompanied by 14 steel trawlers, some of them over 150 feet long. With their ocean bottom vacuum-cleaning methods they are taking tons and tons of fish from our waters, destroying the natural plan of fish life—for all fish are necessary to each other."

Lucas said that in addition to these boats, he had seen a 4,000-ton steamship with two 100-foot boats laying gear and nine or ten small boats picking it up, catching and packing crabs.

"It is undoubtedly necessary," he added, "that our government take a strong stand in this matter."

Meanwhile United States fishermen reported the start of this season's run was normal or better, with prospects for good profits. They are receiving 14 cents per fish, highest rate ever paid in this area.

MANY WORK AGAIN IN U.S. STEEL PLANTS IN LAKES REGION

2,200 last night, said Gen. Light. In addition, about 300 men entered Republic's Bessemer plant in Youngstown, which is just getting under way, Gen. Light reported.

At Johnstown, F. E. Howels, superintendent at the Cambria works' lower gate in Franklin borough, the principal entrance, said 1,800 men had come to work today.

IN CALUMET AREA

Plans were under way to attempt to reopen plants in the Calumet area of Chicago, where 22,000 workers have been affected by the strike.

Governor Clifford Townsend of Indiana said he would refuse requests for national guardsmen to aid mills to reopen.

However, he said he would propose a plan today which he believed would be acceptable to both sides. It will provide for reopening the mills under a truce while the National Labor Relations Board hears C.I.O. charges Inland and Youngstown violated the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

AT SOUTH BUFFALO

A Republic Steel spokesman in Buffalo, N.Y., said "over 300" had applied for employment at the gates of the company's south Buffalo plant. The plant has been operating since the strike was called with non-strikers quartered inside the grounds in pullman cars.

Elmer F. Cope, a S.W.O.C. organizer, asserted the line-up of men was a "ruse."

"There is not a striker among them," he said.

Philip Murray, chairman of the S.W.O.C., at Pittsburgh, today charged "Ohio national guardsmen are being used as company police in an effort to break the steel strike."

He asserted there was a "secret meeting" in Youngstown yesterday between officials of Republic Steel and Maj.-Gen. Light "with the hope of having the Ohio national guard sent to Cleveland to break the steel strike there."

Republic has four closed plants in Cleveland.

FIGURES DIFFER

Murray disputed back-to-work figures issued by the guardsmen. "They accept company figures," he declared.

He said his field men reported the following conditions today in some of the strike areas:

Canton, Ohio, 1,800 out of 7,500 Republic steel workers still at their jobs; Cleveland 8,000 out of four Republic plants; Indiana Harbor 24,000 employees of Inland and Sheet and Tube still out; Massillon, Ohio, 4,000 Republic men on strike.

The strikes have been carried on in seven states.

sibility of a general conflict always present.

GAYDA WRITES

ROME—Germany and Italy will turn thumbs down on the Franco-British proposal to take over their share of the non-intervention naval control off Spain, Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist commentator, said in the Giornale d'Italia today.

Gayda's statement came on the eve of a Non-intervention Committee meeting to consider steps for closing the gap left in the patrol by the withdrawal of German and Italian warships.

Neither the Rome-Berlin axis nor Europe in "all its sane and vital parts" could accept the Franco-British ship plan, declared Gayda.

"Nothing can be done" in Europe, and "especially in the Mediterranean" without Italy and Germany, he wrote in a two-column editorial.

A joint Franco-British patrol of Spanish waters without cooperation from other governments would be advantageous to the Spanish government, Gayda said.

Reasons he said, were Great Britain's "partial attitude" against the Spanish insurgents and, particularly, France's alliance with Soviet Russia.

The monopoly of Franco-British control of the Spanish coasts would bring important support to attempts at a Communist monopoly of Spain at a moment when resistance is tottering, he added.

School Problem In Padlockings

Vancouver Police Wonder Whether Child Can Return to Locked Home

VANCOUVER—First break in the three-day sit-down strike of two Vancouver families occurred today when the son of Dominic Caruso left his home for school. Dry squad officials debated what action to take on his return, as the section of the Liquor Act under which the houses were padlocked Friday forbids entry to the premises.

Caruso's predicament was increased by a landlord's notice, posted on his door Saturday to inform him that under the Liquor Act his tenancy was terminated.

Genial Tony Borsato, sharing self-imposed imprisonment with his wife and three-year-old daughter, was hopeful today he could maintain his "strike" till Friday, when Louis Matlo's test case, attempting to prove the padlock order of Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson ultra vires, will be heard in police court. Last night police relaxed restrictions and allowed food to enter both homes.

Borsato placed a chair on the veranda yesterday for the guarding policeman, and opened the window so the constable could enjoy the radio. His daughter Rena beside him, he chatted through the window, saying he had received "more rest than he had in 24 hours."

REICH PLANS OWN ACTIONS

Will Move Independently in Spain Incidents, Hitler Tells Nazis

WURZBURG, Germany (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler proclaims that Germany henceforth will prefer independent action to protect herself from incidents off the Spanish coast.

The European Non-intervention Committee, he told a party rally of 20,000 Nazis here Sunday, demonstrated its ineffectiveness by failing to act after the cruiser Leipzig allegedly was attacked by a Spanish government submarine. (Valencia denied the attack).

"Every cat can burn its paws once," he told the cheering audience. "Every man can make a mistake once. But only fools make it a second time."

"Neither I nor the German nation have any desire to enter on such a danger a second time."

Hitler criticized both the committee and the foreign press. He said that after the pocket battleship Deutschland had been attacked by two Spanish government planes in May with a loss of 31 lives, and Germany replied with bombardment of Almeria, there was condemnation for Germany.

The foreign press suggested such incidents be referred to the Non-intervention committee.

WILLING TO LEARN

"I am always willing to learn," Hitler said with a tinge of sarcasm. "So after the Leipzig incident Germany appealed to the committee, with the result that that body did not heed German demands."

This, he avowed, had proved clearly what Germany would

Gambling Seen As Menace to Youth

Problem Debated By World Church Alliance at Montreal

MONTREAL — Lowering of moral standards "revealed in the widespread craze for gambling" has created a serious situation, Rev. W. T. Elmslie of London, general secretary of the Presbyterian church of England, said at the quadrennial council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches here today.

"The problem demands not simply repressive action," he said in presenting the report on Sabbath schools and youth, "but also more serious consideration than has hitherto been given to adequate and positive Christian teaching and leadership."

In the "increasing state control of the rising generation," Dr. Elmslie found cause for Christian concern. "China and the United States," he reported, "voluntary and cultural activities of a definitely Christian type are receiving governmental approval, if not active support. On the other hand, state and secular control of youth organizations is notorious in Russia, Germany, Italy, Mexico and Japan, while a similar tendency is clearly marked in Bulgaria, Denmark and Estonia."

Even in Great Britain the London clergyman saw basis for anxiety. "In Britain," he said, "the praiseworthy efforts being made to strengthen the activities of the many organizations dealing with week-night activities of young people may yet react adversely on the church, unless due regard is had to the spiritual basis of such work."

Rev. Dr. James E. Clarke of Nashville, Tenn., paid tribute to the United Church of Canada and to the Presbyterian church in Canada in his report on Christian education, made in behalf of the western section.

"It is important to observe that Canadian churches report that not only in church colleges, but in the universities and among public school authorities, recognition of the essential place of religion in education is to be found. Judging from these reports, it appears Canada is leading the United States in this respect."

Ontario-Quebec Printers Meet

MONTREAL — The Ontario-Quebec provincial conference of the International Typographical Union ended its annual convention here Saturday, electing J. W. Blaquiere of Montreal as president.

Before concluding, the convention heard its officers' report and announced that in future the conference would seek to expand its membership by taking in all branches of the printing trade. Attempts would be made, also, to obtain unification of agreements in the different districts.

The report said it was not the conference's policy to take sides in the dispute between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

U.S. Debate On Courts Is Slow

Proposed Amendments to Roosevelt Bill Pile Up in Senate

WASHINGTON — The United States Senate judiciary committee agreed today to consider on July 12 all pending proposals for constitutional amendments affecting the judiciary.

A score, or more, proposals affecting the courts have been jammed up in committee for many months behind the Roosevelt court bill providing for enlargement of the Supreme Court unless older justices now on the bench retire.

The various proposed constitutional amendments, providing for a variety of alternatives for the Roosevelt bill, all have been referred to subcommittees, but not discussed by the full committee because of the pressure of other matters and lack of unanimity on a single proposal.

PAY INCREASE IS CAMPAIGN TOPIC

MONTREAL — The Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's 7½ per cent raise for its 10,000 workers, announced Friday, was not suggested by the Nova Scotia government, H. J. Kelley, "Danco" vice-president and general manager, declared Sunday night.

The company executive made the assertion in giving out the text of a telegram he had sent to G. S. Harrington, leader of the Conservative opposition in Nova Scotia, who had charged the pay increase was a "600,000 bid to defeat me," and accused the company of "throwing in your lot with the government."

Harrington's accusation was contained in a wire to "Danco" president Arthur Cross, now in England. Kelley answered it in behalf of the president.

Bird Tragedy At Charlottetown

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. — Do birds die of broken hearts? Employees in the post office here noticed a robin hanging dead from a tree by a piece of string which was looped around its neck. The string was apparently caught on the branch and the bird had entangled itself while attempting to fly away.

Later another robin appeared and was seen to peck frantically at the string, and chirp as if calling for assistance. At night it remained perched on the branch, as if keeping vigil. This lasted for two or three days and nights.

Then apparently the bird disappeared. Its chirping and rescue-like efforts were no longer seen or heard.

REICH COLONY PLEA RENEWED

Goering Tells International Chamber of Commerce Present Intolerable

BERLIN — General Hermann Goering, Chancellor Hitler's chief aide, renewed Germany's plea for return of her lost colonies today, with the declaration it was "intolerable" for the Reich to be dependent economically on other nations.

Goering sounded Nazidom's determination to be self-sufficient just 18 years to the day since the formal signing of the Treaty of Versailles stripped a conquered Germany of her colonial empire after the Great War.

Goering told the opening meeting of the ninth session of the International Chamber of Commerce "You may be sure Germany will continue to bring up the colonial problem until her urgent and legitimate desires regarding colonies are fulfilled."

Some 1,500 delegates from almost 50 countries were present at the formal inauguration in the convention at Berlin's Charlottenburg opera house.

FOUR-YEAR PLAN

"Furthermore," warned Goering, who, as director of Germany's self-sufficiency programme is virtual economic dictator of the Reich, "Germany is working with all her energy on the undertaking known as the four-year plan."

"Just as Germany must be able finally to rely on her own strength—and on that alone—to defend her territory, so must she be self-supporting economically if she is to preserve her independence, honor and international prestige," said Goering.

"To depend on the more or less willing assistance of others is simply an intolerable state of affairs for a nationally conscious people that wishes to live."

REARMAMENT MOVES

Goering defended Germany's rearmament with its attendant needs for raw materials as a necessity.

"When it proved impossible to induce other countries to follow the German example and disarm, Germany, in order to secure full equality of rights, had no other choice than to rearm," he said, adding:

"As far as it depends on Germany, there will not be another war."

After an extensive eulogy of Nazi achievements, Hitler's first lieutenant turned to world trade, telling the assembly of business men from all over the world:

"In National Socialist Germany the term world trade is not taken as meaning international economic interdependence in self. Their national market represents the economic patrimony of each people and every national policy begins at home."

"On the other hand, there can be no doubt that consistent application of the principle of economic self-sufficiency of all states would, in the long run, be detrimental to all peoples."

RAW MATERIALS

Hjalmar Schacht, economics minister, emphasized his government's desire for trade and declared: "You'll have to consider whether it is a real service to peace if it is possible to open or close great sources of raw materials to any nation purely for political purposes."

He gave the chamber members his recipe for ending the necessity for forging self-sufficiency states: "If you secure to each nation its food and employment by means of honest money and honest division of raw materials then you will automatically put an end to economic nationalism and all so-called autocratic endeavors."

Abram Frowein of Germany opened the convention, of which he is presiding officer, with a general report that "world trade is on the upgrade."

INCREASE IN CONSUMPTION

"The world economic depression cannot, however, be overcome by restriction of production, but must, on the contrary, be surmounted by a constant increase in production and consumption of goods by the peoples of the world," he said.

Shortening of work hours, he declared, "may go too far," but added that in the past human labor had been "exploited in an intolerable manner."

BOY WALLY SIMPSON

RALEIGH, N.C. — When the State Board of Health made out a birth certificate for "Wally Simpson," nurses nodded their heads. "We were bound, sooner or later, to have someone named for Mrs. Simpson." Then came a letter from the grandmother of North Carolina's Wally Simpson. "It is really funny," she wrote the Board of Health. "He (Wally) was born on June 19, the same as Mrs. Wallis Simpson, and that time, in 1935, no one in the family knew her."

Stamp History Told at Ottawa

Post Office Department Issued 15,000,000,000 From 1903 to 1935

OTTAWA — The Post Office Department issued some 15,000,000 stamps in 34 years, from 1903 until 1935.

An official list of certain Canadian postage stamp issues, starting with the King Edward VII stamps of 1903, has just been given out by the department.

The list does not include obsolete items of postage stamp issues still on sale to collectors through the philatelic division in Ottawa. Neither does it include current issues.

Of the stamps listed, the King George V 1-cent green of 1912 led them all with an issue totalling 3,218,400,000. Next was the King George V 2-cent red with an issue of 3,043,450,000.

Other issues were: The King Edward VII one-cent green, 1,470,000,000; King Edward VII 2-cent red, 2,160,000,000; King George V 1-cent yellow (1922), 1,278,760,000; war tax 3-cent brown (1914), 514,500,000; Confederation 3-cent brown, (1917), 98,650,000; Jacques Cartier 3-cent blue (1934), 12,370,000; Silver Jubilee, 3-cent red (1936), 60,425,000, and Quebec Tercentary 3-cent red, (1908), 35,530,000.

Britain and Germany

TWO RECENT STATEMENTS AS THEY concern the relations existing between Great Britain and Germany in particular and Germany and the other European nations in general are worth study.

The first is a brief one from Reichsfuehrer Hitler which is as follows:

We have been asked why we do not reduce our armament. We have become distrustful. In the past, when we were disarmed other nations could not have the blessing of general disarmament. But they recognized this blessing too late. Now we say, "After you this time!"

The following is the essence of a speech delivered by Sir Neville Henderson, British Ambassador in Berlin, in which he appealed for understanding between the two countries at a banquet given in his honor by the German-English Society in Berlin:

Guarantee us peace and peaceful evolution in Europe, and Germany will find that she has no more sincere and, I believe, more useful friend in the world than Great Britain.

Although Sir Neville has been his country's envoy at the German capital only a few weeks, he told his audience that he had heard constantly repeated that Great Britain was attempting to hem Germany in on every side. Said he: "I can assure you that Great Britain is making no such attempt and has no desire to make it. . . . I can tell you quite definitely and truly what England wants and all that England wants. It is peace—peace in Europe and in a world that surely had enough of war in those ghastly years, 1914 to 1918."

For Reichsfuehrer Hitler's reference to armament there is something to be said. On the other hand, however, the Nazi chieftain must not be surprised if his occasional peaceful protestations are taken with a substantial grain of salt. They are in strange contrast with his fiery speeches and the general trend of his government's policy in Continental Europe. But he has a right to point to the armament provisions of the Treaty of Versailles which brought Germany's defensive equipment down practically to the irreducible minimum, remembering, as he does, that the signatory nations imposing that condition promised by progressive steps to reduce their armament to something approximating equality with that of Germany.

Great Britain was the only country to begin to live up to that undertaking; she did so to such an extent that, with other nations increasing instead of decreasing their armaments, her very security appeared to be seriously threatened, and she felt compelled to get into the crazy and costly rearmament race herself. With these developments constantly before him, Hitler gradually tore up the remains of the Treaty of Versailles which were already in tatters and followed their lead. The Locarno pacts went on to the same rubbish heap.

However, despite what is going on in Spain, despite the German-Italian attitude toward that conflict, despite all the irritating occurrences which would appear to suggest that it is only a question of time before somebody touches off the fuse that will set Europe ablaze again—despite all these ominous signs and portents, it is inconceivable that civilization is in anything like a suicidal mood.

Busy Mr. King

ALTHOUGH PRIME MINISTER MACKENZIE King's visit to Berlin has been announced as one of an entirely personal nature, that he will in no sense appear in the role of envoy bearing proposals from the British or any other governments, it can be assumed that during the course of his conversations with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Foreign Minister von Neurath, and other members of the German cabinet there will be an intimate—if unofficial—exchange of view on political problems that are engaging the attention and worrying the world.

From Berlin Mr. King will go to Brussels where he will meet King Leopold and various Ministers of the Belgian government. He already has been entertained by France's new Prime Minister, M. Chautemps, and he will call again at the Quai d'Orsay on his return to the French capital later on this week prior to sailing for home—rounding up several strenuous weeks of engagements which began with the Coronation ceremonies and the various functions associated with them, followed by the Imperial Conference. All of which must have been more or less a "busman's holiday."

Technical Education Fundamentals

FORESTRY AS A PROFESSION, TO which many young British Columbians look, is showing signs of following a healthy educational lead set by engineering, in demanding of its candidates solid foundations in basic principles rather than superstructure of detailed application. This trend receives approving comment in the June issue of The Journal of Forestry.

The multiplicity of engineering courses that used to stuff college catalogues is being reduced largely because great industrial concerns, which are heavy "consumers" of engineering talent, have taken to training their own young men in special techniques, demanding only that they come well prepared.

A big electrical company, for instance, prefers that its job candidates have their physics "down cold" and that they know the main outlines of electrical engineering thoroughly. It can teach them its own special designs and trick circuits.

Forestry schools, similarly, have had a tendency to a distractingly various lot of professional courses, until the student would lose track of general principles in his bewildered pursuit of a thousand particulars. He could not see the forestry for the individual courses in forestry.

Government forest services, The Journal points out, hold a position analogous to that of the great industrial concerns. They are the principal employers of young graduates in forestry, and the types of their examinations will determine in large measure what courses the schools will offer. If forestry examinations demand fundamental education, that is what the schools will teach.

Secretary Hull's Warning

ON EVERY OPPORTUNITY WHICH presents itself, Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State in the Roosevelt government at Washington, takes a whack at economic nationalism. In a speech the other day he referred in no uncertain terms to the dangers with which persistence in the pursuit of this policy always must be fraught.

Very pointedly and properly Mr. Hull emphasized the fact that unless a nation is content to sink into abject degradation, the economic and spiritual impoverishment which is the inevitable accompaniment of national self-containment, sooner or later leads to growing dissatisfaction among its people and frequently to the breakdown of orderly democratic government.

A nation falling into this unhappy state, as Mr. Hull implied, can easily be misled into threatening to wrest from others by force of arms what it could have obtained by peaceful means were it to follow a policy of co-operation rather than one of hostile isolation. He concluded on this note:

"A nation thrown into a state of desperation may even embark upon the supreme folly of actually attempting to attain these ends by means of a military adventure. Such a nation has no friends in the great community of nations which comprises the human race."

Lesson From the Past

DOWNFALL OF THE WONDERFUL OLD empire of the Incas is held up as a warning to modern civilization. Some of the same tendencies to weakness that laid the once proud Incas low may be detected in our civilization. This sharp lesson from the past is drawn by C. M. Goethe of Sacramento, president of the Eugenics Research Association.

At first glance, the civilization of the Incas and ours have little in common. Peruvian Indians who called themselves Incas, or lords, subdued Indian tribes all around them. They welded these tribes into a sort of prehistoric Fascist state. They kept such close tab on all subjects—numbering 10,000,000 by some estimates—that no individual could escape his place in his village or his craft. But, says Mr. Goethe, when trouble came, the Incan empire crashed. Spanish invaders killed off the brains of the empire, the nobility, and the dull masses of Indian peasantry fell into their hands. Peru's Indians have never recovered intellectually.

The lesson: "Elimination of the brainy, the substitution thereof of the moronic, may spell national decadence for us." It is a lesson that holds little of hope from the long-range point of view for dictator-ridden countries where political competition, which in democratic countries develops a reserve of governing talent for the state to draw upon, is ruthlessly suppressed.

Notes

A Los Angeles footprint expert's shoes were stolen at a convention. It is safe to guess that thereafter he was more on his toes?

Research shows the bathing girl does not look today anything like she did 10 years ago. But that much time would tell on anyone.

The firm that promises a filling of ink for every pen sold brings the question of whether that would be in competition with the Post Office.

The Calgary Albertan is reprinting stories from the celebrated Calgary Eye-Opener. "But," says The Ottawa Journal, with its memory of other days in the west evidently still fresh, "we bet it leaves a lot of them out."

Complete reports covering the first four months of this year in Canada, compared with 1936, show exports up 21 per cent and imports 29 per cent, the favorable balance of trade still well maintained. Building construction is higher by 87 per cent, an increase that is particularly significant, as its ramifications affect all trades. Manufacturing production is up 12 per cent and domestic business 11 per cent. The general increase over the low of 1932 is more than 90 per cent.

Column Three

LONDON.

SOVIET EXECUTIONS

I HAVE JUST SPENT an afternoon with a Russian engineer, a native of Astrakhan, where the Volga empties into the Caspian Sea. This engineer is a graduate of Polytechnique, a post-graduate of London University. He specialized in chemistry in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He served the Soviet Republic as a chemical engineer in a score of enterprises. He has now accepted a high post in one of America's big industries and does not expect to return to Russia for some time.

Does the present intensified terror in Russia, the execution of generals of high rank, weaken the Soviet war machine?

Russian generals do not count. As in big industries, the absence of the figurehead, on leave or death, does not affect the efficiency of a given industry.

You say the Russian people did not even know the names of the generals executed. Astounding!

How many out of every 100,000 persons know the name of the Chief of Staff of their national army?

This is a poser.

But the execution of scores of men, hitherto supporters of the Russian regime, certainly implies that there is something gravely wrong in the present Russian structure.

Again my Russian friend returns with another poser.

When governments in western countries change, do they not dispense with the government's former adherents?

But they are not executed.

They are not executed because your democratic dictatorship is based on the ideology of the ballot. Soviet Russia is at war. The revolution is still going on with intensity. She is also watching the envious eyes of Japan in the east and Germany in the west. What would become of your military and naval officers if they held secret conferences with the military chiefs of nearby countries with the view to ceding part of your country to such neighbors in return for the recognition of a new regime to be set up at home?

That, too, is a poser.

UNITED AGAINST CZARISM

IN THE EARLY DAYS of the Soviet revolution the western powers challenged Moscow Communism. And there were bloody civil wars in every corner of Russia. Eighty-odd nations, speaking twice as many languages, took arms against the common enemy—Czarism. But hardly one in 100,000 understood what Communism implied. The Bolshevik leaders succeeded because they utilized the unanimous enmity of all races and nationalities in Russia against Czarism.

In those tense days of struggle against White Guards and European mercenaries, they accepted with open arms every soldier who had a grudge against Czarism and offered to help the Bolsheviks in their revolutionary battles. Thousands and thousands of recruits, many of them non-Russians, were accepted as heroes.

Tukhachevsky and the seven other Soviet generals who were recently executed hailed from the Russian provinces that are now independent lands, such as Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Rutenia, Poland, and Bessarabia (which now belongs to Roumania). All but two of the executed generals were Nordics. Before the revolution the Bessarabian general was a small tradesman.

These men, and there are several thousand others who still hold high posts in the Soviet government, although they fought hard to liquidate Czarism, neither understood nor were kindly disposed toward Communism. Until a few years ago, the Stalin regime did not suspect this element. The secret service constantly assured Stalin that everything was all right in the ranks.

STALIN WARNED

SUDDENLY it was discovered that the chief of the secret service, Yagoda, a Pole, was in the pay of the German Gestapo. Stalin was warned by the secret service chief of another nation that an understanding had been arrived at between a number of Russian army chiefs and the Nazi military chiefs.

Under the terms of this agreement, if Germany made a move toward the east, invading Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Poland and Czechoslovakia, Tukhachevsky, who commanded the Soviet western armies, would hold back his forces.

This understanding was later revised on instructions from Trotsky. Germany would be permitted to invade Poland, then the Ukraine. At the same time the conspiring generals would replace Stalin's regime with a new regime with Nazi affinities.

Of course, these things were implied during the recent open trials of the conspirators. But how did the Stalin regime learn of this deep-laid plot?

In European chancelleries it is an open secret. When Trotsky lived in France his house was "burglarized." What the French Secret Service discovered caused grave apprehension. They did not communicate the information directly to Stalin. The French government of the time was not quite friendly with Russia. Inquiries were made in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Roumania, Lithuania and Latvia. These border nations had been bitterly anti-Soviet and sympathetic toward the Nazis.

The French Secret Service finally decided to warn Stalin. From that moment the border states began to suppress Nazism. During the last few months Poland has adopted a policy toward the Germans within her borders which is as virulent but not so crude as the Nazi persecution of the Jews.

Although Poland is still not friendly with Soviet Russia, she has rearranged her foreign and military policies so that Germany can not surprise her in order to put into execution the arrangement with Tukhachevsky.

HEAR THE ENGLISH SKYLARKS

From The Buzzer

Some few years ago an attempt was made to introduce the English skylark at certain points along the Pacific coast in British Columbia and California, but the little birds never seemed to be able to acclimatize themselves to their new home, and died out, except in one quite restricted area on Vancouver Island known as the Uplands district, on the northeast boundary of Victoria city. Here these little songsters seemed to find a climate and environment suited to their needs, and have lived and thrived there ever since.

The best way to reach the Uplands district is by No. 9 car to Estevan Avenue. Get off at this point, walk towards the beach, but instead of going right down to the beach, turn left along the road just above the beach. Follow this through the entrance to the Uplands district and then walk over the open ground, keeping not too close to the shore line. From here to the built-up section of the Uplands is where the little birds seem to have their home, and where you are most likely to have the opportunity of hearing and seeing them in full song.

City in 4500 B.C. Had Art and Music

PHILADELPHIA. THE WORLD'S OLDEST CITY, Tepe Gawra, in Mesopotamia, now promises to stretch its age to the amazing total of 8,000 years.

This is the report of Dr. E. A. Speiser of the University Museum, University of Pennsylvania, who has completed another season of surprising discoveries about city life as it was in forgotten ages.

Before 4000 B.C. (Dr. Speiser discovered this year) people at this place were no ignorant primitives, but city folk with music, architecture and cultural accomplishments previously supposed to belong far later in civilization.

Among ruins of 4000 to 4500 B.C. he found pillars and piers, architectural forms not used again until the Middle Ages. A large vase showed an attempt at landscape drawing. Gold beads from the ruins reveal the earliest metal worked by human hands of known antiquity. A bone flute, clutched in the hand of a child buried 6,000 years ago, shows one kind of a musical instrument played in ancient Tepe Gawra. The flute is 1,500 years older than the harp in Ur's famous tombs.

The season's digging has revealed the twelfth and thirteenth layers of the many-layered city. Test probing, made before the season ended, convinced Dr. Speiser that when finally excavated, Tepe Gawra will have an 8,000-year history.

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

YEAR'S WORK IS REVIEWED

George I. Warren Gives Annual Report of Chamber of Commerce

The activities of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce during the year were outlined by George I. Warren, managing secretary, in his report at the annual meeting held today in the form of a luncheon in Spencer's dining-room.

In his report, Mr. Warren called the attention of the members to the work done by the Chamber of Commerce in connection with reduction of the tariff on motion picture films and sound equipment, chiefly through Alderman W. T. Straith, who represented the chamber at Ottawa. Reduction of the tariffs, he said, saved the motion picture industry for Victoria.

"A special committee," he stated, "gave considerable attention to the question of the extension of the west coast highway from Jordan River to Port Renfrew. Numerous discussions and conferences were held with provincial and Dominion officials, which resulted in Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, on behalf of the provincial government, announcing that immediate work would be started on the construction of this much-needed road."

"The work has already started and the directors are pleased to advise that the industrial activity in the Port Renfrew district has already increased and that the construction of the west coast road will result in considerable business from that section being given to local merchants and firms."

"During the year the Building Industries Trade Group was formed within the chamber, and under the chairmanship of James Parfitt persistent efforts have been made to secure the erection of a new Federal building in Victoria. The group has also given much consideration to the Home Improvement Plan and the Dominion Housing Act."

"The recent proposal of the Dominion Government to enforce prohibitive fees and regulations on shipping at this port and at all ports in Canada other than at those having harbor boards, would probably have resulted in the almost entire loss of Victoria's marine business. It would have spelled disaster to the local lumber industry; it would have adversely affected the operation of our shipbuilding and drydock establishments, as well as seriously affecting many other industries. The directors immediately appointed a committee to deal with the matter, and J. H. Hamilton, secretary of the Vancouver Chamber of Shipping, consented to represent Victoria at the hearing held in Ottawa."

"Mr. Hamilton secured the active co-operation of our Federal member, Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, and as a result of their efforts the Dominion Government authorities made drastic reductions in and revision of the proposed act by eliminating the proposed charges on logs, the lay-up charges, the charges on vessels entering Victoria drydock for repairs, and reducing charges on vessels entering the port, the result of which has removed the danger of the eliminating of this city as a port of call by the many steamship lines whose vessels now touch here."

"The special aviation committee has affiliated with the civic airport committee, and this new joint committee working from the City Hall, is now striving for the establishing of an airport in Victoria."

The donations division committee has been successful in stopping many of the rackets which were formerly carried on here under the guise of special donations and unprofitable forms of advertising, and have by their efforts saved our merchants many hundreds of dollars.

In conjunction with the silver jubilee anniversary of the Salvation Army in Victoria, the band from the army's Vancouver Citadel was here over the week-end and appeared in several public performances.

Yesterday afternoon a large crowd heard the splendid programme presented at Beacon Hill Park, where Brigadier A. E. Dalziel, divisional commander, presided. The band was directed by Bandmaster S. G. Collier and presented a programme of martial and religious airs. Prayers were offered by Adjutant F. Zarfas, officer commanding the Vancouver Citadel, and Adjutant L. Ede introduced Brigadier Dalziel. On Saturday evening the band played in a concert at the City Temple, where Alderman Edward Williams extended a welcome on behalf of Mayor Andrew McGavin and paid tribute to the work of the army during its years of existence. Several street performances were heard during the day.

Early settlers in America carelessly called many birds and animals by names of creatures known in Europe, says the curator of birds at the Field Museum, and as a result the pioneers made a good many mistakes which cannot be corrected now without great confusion. The opossum of Australia is different from the true opossum of America.

To the Editor:—With all the flamboyant enthusiasm of flaming youth, those glorious Apollos, Clive Thomas and Peter Hartnell, have rushed into print to proclaim their verdict on the recent resolutions of the Canadian Youth Congress at Montreal. And their finding is official, for it is delivered in due form of law by them as president and vice-president, sitting on the judgment bench in the halls of the Young Citizens' League of British Columbia. Please note, too, you legal-minded ones, that the trial of these condemned "Communists and Leftists" was before judges only—no jury. Their finding is made and given forth by the court orler to all men as followeth, to wit: "This seven-point resolution adopted by the Canadian Youth Congress is just according to our mind. It suits our Young Citizens' League to perfection. We endorse its every word: let no dog bark." Well, so do I. But of what great use are such generalities?

FLAMING YOUTH

To the Editor:—With all the flamboyant enthusiasm of flaming youth, those glorious Apollos, Clive Thomas and Peter Hartnell, have rushed into print to proclaim their verdict on the recent resolutions of the Canadian Youth Congress at Montreal. And their finding is official, for it is delivered in due form of law by them as president and vice-president, sitting on the judgment bench in the halls of the Young Citizens' League of British Columbia. Please note, too, you legal-minded ones, that the trial of these condemned "Communists and Leftists" was before judges only—no jury. It suits our Young Citizens' League to perfection. We endorse its every word: let no dog bark." Well, so do I. But of what great use are such generalities?

For instance (item 4): "That the congress favor justice to all." And (item 5): "That the aims of the congress be internal and world peace." "Co-operation between all classes." "The sanctity of the human personality." These are all good things; and, put in that harmless way, will offend no worthwhile man. But go on to expand and particularize a bit, and see where you land. After the words "justice to all" add these words—(come, now, have a heart!)—"absolutely without favor or distinction as regards race, color of skin or country of origin." Then you will find yourself "up against" every political party and nearly every church. Even the poor, worried editors, bishops and such like "unknown quantities"—quite irresponsible, yet speaking from the "seats of the mighty," and whose word therefore should come to us with authority—will be on your trail like a forestry gang with horse-blankets and chemical sprays to extinguish such an unorthodox blaze as you would have started. And, to cap the climax, the "Native Sons of B.C." would rush with tomahawk and knife to avenge their honor, trailed in the dust by being classed as only equal in status and citizenship with Chinks, Dagoes, Scandinavians and "all that trash." Just say "equal privileges" for "equal services" and, perhaps, you may escape scalping!

Come, now, my young friends, let's reason together. Why such ado, why weep such bitter tears of ink over the evident conversion of your Communist and Leftist friends to the views of your own congress? Surely your insinuation is not that that professed conversion is only for effect and with sinister objects behind the action: that it will be cast off, like a worn-out snake-skin that has served its purpose. I, who was a friend of these young officials of the Youth League when they launched it, know them better than to believe them capable of so unkind a thought—or do I? Some of us more "elder youth" have learned, in the school of bitter experience, that there is a difference between sincerity and sham. Perhaps this little bit of persiflage "writ sarcastic like," may relieve the strain of misunderstanding.

MALARIA
To the Editor:—Two news items have appeared recently on the subject of malaria—an alarmingly increasing disease. One published by the Health Service of the Canadian Medical Association, the other from a Canadian journalist, and concerns the experimenting "hobby" of a Canadian doctor in the Bahamas. Both these contributions refer to the one-time theory that malaria is carried by mosquitoes—the same has been said of yellow fever. Recent quotation from recent findings conflict with this well-worn theory that the disease is spread by some parasite.

(League of Nations, Malaria Commission, 1927). "In some countries hardly anything has retarded the effective control of malaria so much as the belief that because mosquitoes carry malaria, their elimination should be the object of chief concern and expenditure."

(United States, "Public Health," January, 1935). "Malaria is one of our major problems. . . . The present year has shown (in spite of extensive drainage works) an increase greater than any observed for twenty years. . . . the cause is not evident."

(Medical World, April 3, 1936). "Notwithstanding all the scientific research neither the admirably drawn report of Colonel Gill, the official government adviser, nor two discussions at the Royal Societies of Medicine and of Tropical Medicine have shed much light on the actual causes of the epidemic."

(League of Nations Report, 1927)—Ludwig Anigstein, M.D., Ph.D., says in his report on conditions in Siam, 1931: "The population of the capital . . . although heavily attacked by mosquitoes,

Following the service a luncheon was held at the Michigan Union.

At the close of the summer session of the University of Michigan on August 20, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon will visit friends and relatives in Victoria and Sidney. Mr. Bob Hill, Seattle, Wash., a fellow student at the University of Washington with the bridegroom, was an out-of-town guest.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Lennax wearing an ensemble in yellow and brown. A buffet supper was served from a table gay with summer flowers.

HER LIFE A MISERY Through BACKACHE

Pain So Bad She Could Scarcely Walk

Three years of suffering and then at last—glorious relief! This woman feels it her duty to tell other sufferers how she got back her health. Here in her letter she tells her story: "I feel it my duty to tell you how, after nearly three years of suffering with neuritis and backache, I have obtained relief after taking two bottles of Kruschen Salts. I have been in hospital, had radiant heat, etc., but nothing touched it until I read about Kruschen Salts, and the benefits derived from them. I can walk at least three miles a day now and before I did merely crawl about the house."—(Mrs. A. N.)

Kruschen is an excellent diuretic—that is, it helps to stimulate kidney functions. When kidneys are restored to healthy, normal action, poisonous waste is properly eliminated, the blood-stream is purified and you get welcome relief from the dragging pains of backache. (Advt.)

Radio Returns Classic Music

SAINT JOHN, N.B. — "The trend of music today is back to the classical," Walter S. Clapperton, professor of music at McGill University, said when he visited Saint John to examine students taking McGill courses in music.

"The radio has brought music into the homes of everybody, and it is there for people to take advantage of, a great multitude of whom have done so. Radio listeners can procure scores, if they wish, and beside their radios they can listen and criticize as never before. Furthermore, more people are interested in this type of music today than are generally given credit for."

Folk music exists in New Brunswick, said Prof. Clapperton. "Even now one of our associates, Prof. W. J. Smith of Fredericton, is busily engaged in seeking this. In the summer he will visit the lumber camps to learn the tunes of the lumbermen throughout the province and also visit the country folk."

STRAWBERRY VALE

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Watling, Helen Road, last Thursday in honor of their son Trevor. Refreshments were served by Miss Mona Watling from tables decorated in pale green and yellow. A programme of games was enjoyed.

ANDREW and IMOGENE

By ROE FULKERSON

"Andrew, I want Betty Jo to go to college," said Imogene seriously.

"So soon? And she has just learned to print her name!" laughed Andrew.

"I mean in 14 more years," scoffed Imogene. "I mean when she is ready for college."

"Business college?" asked Andrew.

"A good college," said Imogene loftily.

"A business college is the best college in the world for her, unless she takes up literature, music or art, and then she should go to a technical college."

"Betty Jo is not going to earn her living. She is going to be married!"

"Our daughter may not have to earn her living," said Andrew, "but by the time she is 18, she is going to be able to do so, if I have anything to say about it, and I think I shall!"

"Say it now!" dared Imogene.

"Somehow, I can't see the wisdom of each generation putting in all its time, all its income and all its energy, taking care of the generation to follow," said Andrew.

"My parents deprived themselves of a lot of things in order that I might have an education I did not appreciate because I had done nothing to earn it."

"What I have was handed to me on a silver platter by parents who did not live their own lives, but tried to live my life for me by giving me the things they did not have in their youth."

"If I should follow out their plan and try to give my daughter the things which you did not have in your youth, I would have to give her much more than your parents gave you, because they also sacrificed for you and gave you the things they did not have."

"If this same plan goes on for half a dozen generations, you can see the absurd extreme to which it will go. Each generation, adding to the succeeding one something it did not have, would soon produce a generation so soft and helpless that the plan would break down by its own weight."

"Each parent rears his child for something better, not something worse. The something worse is bound to happen some day, and the child who has not been prepared for it is bound to suffer. No man or woman can tell what the future has in store for the individual or the nation. You and I have been high on top of the heap of prosperity, and have gone down to the depths of the depression. We had enough saved to see us through, and now we are on the uphill side again. I want Betty Jo to be so educated that she and her husband, or she alone, if it should happen before she married, would be able to weather another depression."

"In other words, darling, I want her educated for the worst instead of the best. Most girls are educated with the idea that they are to escape work of all kinds for all time. They have the charm, the fascination of useless things. But they cannot all marry men who are financially independent. There are not enough such men to go around. Some of these girls who are educated for the best are going to lose out and have to marry men who will need wives who are educated for the worst."

"Even in my short life, a big change has come over the number of working women. This change will continue until the time will come when the useless doll of a woman will find that she does not fit into the scheme of our civilization."

"Women educated for the best instead of the worst, bring into the world daughters who are educated for a still better best, and two or three such generations produce a woman so immature mentally that she is too childish to face the problems of the world of reality, and sits and sobs in her useless hands in every emergency. Our daughter is not going to be so educated!"

"Oh, dear! Were you talking about Betty Jo all the time?"

"I certainly was!" said Andrew, firmly.

"But she doesn't flutter her hands, or whatever it was that you said those awful girls did. She is going to be educated at a first-class finishing school and then get married," said Imogene.

"She probably will be!" sighed Andrew.

Austin Leads Way Into Semis At Wimbledon

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

THE SPEED with which Wesley Ferrell and Buck Newsum, pitchers who figured in the recent exchange of players between the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators of the American Baseball League, took on winning ways after changing uniforms, bears out the wisdom of swapping horses in deep water.

The outcome of this deal must be causing red faces among club owners who failed to take advantage of the open season on trading to readjust their battle lines, if only on the time-honored theory that a change of pasture is beneficial to an athlete.

Psychology plays an important role in baseball, as it does in all sports. If the mental attitude is not right, the physical performance is not going to measure up. It is easy enough to say that a manager should be able to get the best out of his players and that they, in turn, should be sufficiently mindful of their own welfare to put forth their best efforts; but it is another thing to obtain those results in all cases.

Failing to achieve this ideal, the most logical course, at least, so baseball has found, is to shift the player to other scenes of action. Sometimes the move works out advantageously; sometimes it does not, but the percentage is in favor of the plan's success, especially while the novelty of the situation lasts. In quite a few cases, the mental attitude of the individual falls back into the same old groove and the change for the better is only temporary. In such event, it is too bad for the player concerned.

Both fans and players are too readily inclined to blame everything upon the manager. The pilot, it is true, is responsible for many things, but no leader is infallible. Some of them, because of their own deficiencies or because of conditions over which they have no control, are unable to establish the morale that is necessary to a winning and contented club. But just as often, individuals within the organization are responsible for the lack of cohesion, and not even a saint could instill the spirit of co-operation within them. Under such circumstances, a change is advocated. Whether the move works out depends to a large extent upon the player himself.

Such shifts more often than not have been found to have a salutary effect all the way 'round. The player benefits of the new environment and the exchanging clubs naturally profit from the standpoint of morale and improved team spirit. At least, that is the way the Washington-Boston deal has worked out thus far for the pitchers involved, Newsum and Wes Ferrell. The change has given each what was apparently desired—greener grass in another pasture.

Hillcrest Club To Hold Dance

A large attendance of members and friends is expected at the Hillcrest Tennis Club flannel dance to be held Wednesday at the K. of C. Hall, Government Street. A first class orchestra will be in attendance. Dancing will commence at 9:30 and continue until 1:30.

An energetic committee under the chairmanship of Neil Fraser has been working for the last two weeks to make the affair successful. Other members of the committee are Jimmy Stewart, Miss Betty Gosh and Miss Sadie Underwood.

QUOITS

Last Saturday, in one of the best doubles games seen at the Quoting Club's grounds this season, T. Scouler and S. Watt defeated D. McCaig and T. Alexander by the score of 25 to 22. Another doubles game under the floodlights which have proved a big success, will be played on Wednesday night at the same grounds between T. Alexander and J. Leiper vs. D. McCaig and S. Watt.

British Veteran Wins Over Grant In Straight Sets

Is Accompanied Into Last Four By Budge, Von Cramm and Parker

Two Five-setters

WIMBLEDON, Eng.—Henry (Bunny) Austin of England marched into the semi-finals of the all-England tennis championships today, crushing Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

Don Budge, America's red-headed Davis Cup ace, eliminated Vivian McGrath of Australia, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, in the quarter-finals.

Baron Gottfried von Cramm, seeded second to Budge, outlasted the veteran Jack Crawford of Australia, 6-3, 8-6, 3-6, 2-6, 6-2. Frankie Parker* gave the United States two semi-finalists when he upset the third seeded Heinrich Henkel of Germany, 6-3, 7-5, 4-6, 4-6, 6-2.

Budge, in top form, romped through McGrath, seeded No. 7, almost as he pleased and continued his record of not losing a set in the current championships nor in the Queens' Club tournament which preceded.

Austin packed far too many guns for Grant. The Atlantan had a chance only in the second set but after gaining a 5-2 lead he could not halt Austin's counter rally and the Englishman ran off five games in succession. In the fourth round of the women's singles, Helen Jacobs, defending champion, defeated Miss A. A. Wright of Great Britain, 6-0, 6-3, and Jadwiga Jedrejowska of Poland defeated Dorothy Andrus of the United States, 6-0, 6-2.

First upset came as Margaret Scriven of England defeated her compatriot, Kay Stammers, 7-5, 6-3, and Alice Marble, United States, triumphed 6-0, 6-2, over Rollin Courquerque of Holland.

In the third round of men's doubles, George Patrick Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey, British Davis Cup combination, defeated the Swiss pair, Carl Raeschliman and Max Ellmer, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

HAGEN NAMES HIS PLAYERS

SOUTHPORT, Eng.—Captain Walter Hagen today selected five men with British golfing experience and three rookies to start defence of the Ryder Cup against Great Britain in the Scotch foursomes over the rugged Southport and Ainsdale course tomorrow.

The non-playing captain of the American forces sent Sam Snead, sensational rookie, and Horton Smith to the sidelines and paired Gene Sarazen and Denny Shute, Byron Nelson and Ed. Dudley, Tony Manero and Ralph Guldahl, the American open champion, and Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta for the tandem events.

Hagen indicated, however, that Snead and Smith both would be included in the singles lineup.

A women's foursome competition will be played at the Victoria Golf Club tomorrow. Players are asked to arrange their own starting times.

MRS. RAYMENT TAKES SECOND

Finishes One Point Back of Leader in Governor's Match at Rifle Meet

VANCOUVER—Final tally of scores in the 59th annual meeting of the British Columbia Rifle Association held at Blair Rifle Range last week today gave the grand aggregate and British Columbia championship to A. S. Campbell, Vancouver Rifle Association, who topped the field of 80 shots with a score of 710 in his first provincial competition.

Officials of the British Columbia Rifle Association, however, awarded their gold badge, the British Columbia Bond Company's challenge cup, and the Governor-General's silver medal to Corporal P. M. Gibault, British Columbia regiment, Vancouver, who was second with a score of 708, on the grounds that Campbell, not a member of His Majesty's forces, was ineligible for the prizes.

Although top man in the Letson Challenge Trophy for the tyro aggregate, Campbell was also deprived of it as he is officially a "green shot"—one who has never competed in a national, Dominion or provincial rifle meet.

Trophy went to Constable F. C. Sullivan, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Vancouver. Constable Sullivan also won the Lieutenant-Governor's match with a score of 169 out of a possible 175. He "pinned" home 19 bulls in this contest to give him a lead of one point over Mrs. C. H. Rayment, Canadian Scottish Regiment Rifle Association, Victoria.

Gwen Spencer Hethely, well-known Victoria shot, placed 15th with a score of 692 in the grand aggregate and British Columbia championship, and 28th in the Lieutenant-Governor's match, in which she led in the first stage. Her final score in the Lieutenant-Governor's competition was 158.

New Zealanders Score 282 Runs

Have Lost Nine Wickets in Cricket Test at London; England Gets 424

LONDON—New Zealand's tail-end batsmen mastered England's bowlers in the second day's play of the opening cricket test match today. After seven wickets had fallen for 176 runs at the tea interval, the Antipodeans carried the total to 282 for nine at the close in response to the Mother Country's first-innings total of 424.

When play was resumed this morning the Mother Country's total stood at 370 for seven wickets.

Edward Paynter, Lancashire batsman, carried his score from 42 to 74 before he sent a skier to J. A. Dunning, field at mid-on; off A. W. Roberts's bowling. V. Voce, Nottinghamshire, made 27.

PLAYER INJURED

The New Zealanders started badly and hard luck added to their troubles. H. G. Vivian, noted Auckland batsman, went out leg before to Alfred Gover, with only nine runs scored, and then J. L. Kerr, Canterbury, was hit in the mouth by a rising ball after scoring six and forced to retire.

A. W. Hadlee, another Canterbury player, and M. L. PPage,

Charlton Blanks New York Eleven

Touring English Footballers Score 4 to 0 Victory; Won Saturday

NEW YORK — Charlton Athletic, touring English soccer team, blanked an all-star New York team 4 to 0 today to mark up the 11th straight victory of their North American tour. They defeated an all-star Pennsylvania team 8 to 0 in Philadelphia Saturday.

Charlton's triumph before more than 10,000 people in the Polo grounds atoned for a 1 to 1 draw, to which they were held here in the opening game of their tour.

The Londoners, who scored their first goal through George Tadmam, outside left, assisted by Monty Wilkinson, outside right, with five minutes to go in the first half, found their stride in the second half, and repeatedly forced Stan Chesney, New York custodian, to show great agility in clearing his lines.

During the second half Don Welsh, English centre forward, accepted a pass from Les Boulter, inside left, to land the ball in the New Yorkers' net after 13 minutes of play.

In a skirmish around the New York goal, George Robinson, Charlton inside right, passed to Welsh who scored his second goal. Five minutes before the end of the game Boulter booted in Charlton's fourth and final goal.

Dave Lewis's boat secured five, including two fish weighing 16 pounds, while H. Craymore got three, including a 16 pounder. Sid Jenkins landed at 15-pounder.

OUTDOOR DOG SHOW STAGED

Mrs. F. D. Davidson's Sealyham Terrier Judged Best of All Breeds

With over 75 canines benched, the annual outdoor show of the Victoria City Kennel Club was held Saturday afternoon at "Drumadon," beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Robertson, Cadboro Bay. Mrs. F. D. Davidson's Sealyham terrier, Felcourt Destiny, was judged the best of all breeds in the show to capture the highest honors of the afternoon.

Mrs. Davidson also took the award for the best puppy on exhibit with her Dauntless Coon of Tulloch, a cocker spaniel. The best novice in the show was Star of Asia, a chow chow owned by G. Hartley.

The award for the best champion benched went to Mrs. M. Gibson's Perivale Coastguard King Flight, a big Newfoundland. The award for a brood bitch and two of her progeny went to Mrs. J. F. O. Wood's German shepherds, while the prize for the stud dog and two of his get was awarded to J. R. Clark's English setters.

Alex. McCloy judged all breeds.

GETS HOLE-IN-ONE

Givan Is Again P.N.W. Champion

Seattle Star Defeats Don Moe 4 and 3 For Northwest Golf Title

TACOMA—The Pacific Northwest amateur golf tournament, which wound up with the recrowning of champions Harry Givan, Seattle, and Marian McDougall, Portland, uncovered a trio of sharpshooters at the peak of their game who may cut quite a figure in the United States national amateur at Portland in August.

If champion Givan, Don Moe, Portland, and Scotty Campbell, Seattle, continue to play the kind of sub-par golf they dished out last week in the Northwest tournament here, Washington and Oregon won't have to take a back seat to any other section of the country in the big national show. Givan defeated Moe, 4 and 3, in the final Saturday, and Don had taken Campbell 1 up. Twenty-eight birdies were scored by the three men in the two matches, totaling 51 holes.

DECISIVE WIN

Miss McDougall could have beaten a lot of the men entrants the way she was playing Saturday when she trounced Mrs. E. G. Griggs, Tacoma City champion, 13 and 12. The Portland girl, who has now won three Northwest titles in the last four years, was only five over men's par for the necessary 24 holes, and three under women's par.

Moe shot two 68s Friday over the par-72 course, one to beat Campbell and the other to trim Jack Westland, Seattle, 7 and 5. But he couldn't quite keep up the wicked pace against Givan.

All three have been Walker Cup members; Moe has twice won the western amateur and also the Oregon State; Campbell has twice captured the Canadian amateur and twice the Northwest, and Givan capped his second Northwest crown.

Local Eleven Marks Up 3 to 0 Victory in Dominion Cup Soccer Series

Smashing through for three goals in the second half, Victoria City blanked the New Westminster Royals 3 to 0 in their Dominion cup football match at the Macdonald Park on Saturday afternoon. The game, played on a fast pitch and with a strong crosswind, drew a good crowd who went home happy over the local victory that ended the reign of the national champions.

Taking advantage of the wind in the second half the City had far the better of the play and deserved to win. The local forwards kept crowding the New Westminster backs, and with Bumstead, Royals' goalie, none too safe, were always dangerous. Except for stages of the first half when they flashed some snappy short passing combination the Royals looked very ragged. They were nothing near the club which won the Canadian championship last season.

Royals were without the services of Trevor Harvey, their crack centre-half, and George Anderson, left full-back. George Leggett, Victoria, who played with the Royals, turned in a smart exhibition at right back.

ROYALS FORCE PLAY

With the wind at their backs the Royals forced the play from the kick-off and Turner got in a snap shot that was wide. The City broke away and forced a corner off Leggett. From Youson's cross the local forwards drove in four shots, but all were blocked.

At the other end Turner headed by the post on a cross by Edwards from a corner. Cavallini had a wide open net only to lift the ball over the bar. Right after Turner rattled the crossbar with a terrific drive and Moody cleared the rebound off Findler's toe.

Play was held up when Rowe, Victoria goalie, was bumped hard by Turner in fisting out a centre from a corner. After getting first aid the netminter took up his position. The City got another corner with Payne flicking Youson's cross to the side of the post. Just before half-time Cliff Robbins and Edwards, New Westminster outside left, tried to put on a boxing exhibition but were pulled apart before any damage resulted.

With the start of the second half the City put on Ronnie Williams for Moore on the half line. The Royals worked the ball up the field only to have Findler drive over the bar. After eleven minutes the City broke into the score column, Cecil Cockerill deflecting a long drive by Glen Robbins against the post and into the net. The City continued to drive in shots and four minutes later George Payne made it 2 to 0 after some nice combination. Peers gave the ball to Youson and the outside right passed to Cockerill who, in turn, flicked it over to Payne and the outside left scored with a low shot to the corner.

A GOOD SAVE

The Royals came close when Cavallini was through by himself and tried to pick the corner only to have Rowe dive and push the ball clear. It was a pretty save.

Splitting the New Westminster backs to pick up a long kick by Cliff Robbins, Payne went in on top of Bumstead to score into an empty goal and make it 3 to 0 for the City. This counter came at the 30-minute mark. The Royals substituted Forrester for Soone on the half line, but he remained on the field only a few minutes, being sent off, along with Cliff Robbins, by the referee, for fighting.

Just before time the City came close to getting another goal when two shots following a corner kick were blocked by Bumstead's body in a scramble in the Royals' goalmouth.

Hubbell Defeats Dean Once Again

Giants' Ace Beats St. Louis Star in Another Classic Mound Duel 8 to 1

You couldn't blame major league magnates if they peeked under second base or back of the scoreboard or some such place today in the hope of digging up a rivalry to match the Carl Hubbell-Dizzy Dean duel.

For, win, lose or draw between the Giants' southpaw ace and the Cardinals' great popper-offer, any time those two go to the post against each other, they pack'em in to the rafters.

To the moguls, it didn't matter so much that Hubbell topped Diz like a tent yesterday to take an 8 to 1 decision in the latest renewal of their pitching rivalry.

What was more interesting to the front offices, was the fact that 38,719 fans made it look like world series day in Sportsman's Park for the battle.

The crowd made it more than 120,000 who have turned out for the three Dean-Hubbell clashes this year.

SECOND STRAIGHT Hubbell's win, in which he allowed but six hits, fanned six and did not walk a man, compared to the 10 hits Dean gave up, was his second straight.

Achieved with the aid of two homers by Mel Ott, the win sent the Giants and Cards into a virtual tie for second place in the National League.

They were only half a game back of the league-leading Chicago Cubs, who were soundly whipped by Brooklyn pitching in both ends of a doubleheader. Van Mungo fanned six to take the opener, 8 to 3, and rookie Luke Hamlin hurled a three-hitter for a 6 to 3 nightcap decision.

The Yanks, winding up a highly successful home stand with nine victories against three defeats, trampled the Detroit Tigers 9 to 5 as George Selkirk clouted his 16th homer. The defeat dropped the Tigers into the American League third place, since the Chicago White Sox won their sixth straight by topping the Washington Senators 5 to 3, to return to second.

The Philadelphia Athletics climbed out of the cellar by splitting with Cleveland's hapless Indians 10 to 0 and 7 to 2. Beaten twice by Boston's Red Sox 8 to 0 and 11 to 7, the St. Louis Browns nosedived back into last place.

The Boston Bees turned the tables on the Cincinnati Reds with a twin win, 8 to 2 and 10 to 5, and the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Phillies, 4 to 3.

COAST LEAGUE The Coast League baseball race entered its 14th week today. Sacramento topped the circuit three full games ahead of the San Francisco Seals—just where they were a week ago.

Sacramento can blame the San Francisco Missions for keeping their percentage the same. Yesterday the Missions robbed the Solons of an opportunity to gain another game on the Seals by winning the opener of a twin bill, 7 to 2, before losing the second 2 to 0.

Seattle's Indians were in an ugly mood as they clubbed the Seals into submission twice.

Seattle Captures Softball Tourney

Defeats Vancouver Club 8 to 3 in Final of International Event Saturday

Marking up a quartette of runs during a stiff seventh-inning attack to break up what looked to be a promising ball game, Seattle Dog House nine humbled the Ski and Sports Shop, Vancouver, 8 to 3, when they met in the final of Victoria's first international softball tournament Saturday evening at the Athletic Park. The visiting teams gained the play-off berth by virtue of their victories over local clubs earlier in the day.

New Method Laundry, leading nine in Victoria's senior A pennant chase, went down to defeat at the hands of Chuck Durgan's Seattle club, 6 to 2, in the opening game of the tourney, while in the other clash of the afternoon the visiting Ski and Sports Shop team came through with a 3 to 0 triumph over Manager Bert Simpson's Painter's Bruins.

Saturday's programme was Victoria's first taste of an international softball tournament, and judging from the enthusiasm displayed by the fans, it was thoroughly appreciated. Close to 300 fans were on hand for the afternoon's double header, while the evening crowd totaled more than 350.

The tournament staged by the jubilee celebration committee was officially opened in the afternoon with Mayor McGavin hitting the first ball pitched by Alderman T. Hawkins, with J. A. Harrison, assistant city comptroller and treasurer, behind the plate.

Seattle was the better team in the final tussle. They showed superior teamwork in the field and connected with the stuffed horsehide more often than their Vancouver opponents. From the offerings of "Shorty" White, Dog House batters laced out 10 hits, making half of them good for extra bases. Vancouver Ski and Sports Shop got to Mel Daggett for seven hits.

Sending one runner the distance in the opening frame, Vancouver took over the lead, but Durgan's boys tailed a pair of runs in the following session. The Ski and Sports Shop fought their way to the front again in the third with a couple of markers to make the score stand 3 to 2. Following a scoreless fourth inning Seattle boosted their score to five in the next frame, and then put the game on ice in the seventh with a four-run spurge. A couple of errors on the part of Vancouver and hard-hitting Dog House willow stick aces netted the Seattle squad's runs.

Olmstead for Seattle and D. Turkington for Vancouver laced out a circuit drive each during the tussle.

Scores by innings:
Ski Sports Shop—1020000000
Dog House—02002040x
Batteries—White, Spence; Daggett, Hughes.

Survey Parties
Now Going OutContour Mapping of Island to Be Speeded Up

Topographical survey parties—the crews who were so interested in their work they went out without assurance of any pay during depression years—will leave from Victoria this week for the provincial government survey branch.

Under an arrangement with the Royal Canadian Air Force, which handles the aerial photography, the five parties this year will confine their efforts to Vancouver Island and by the end of this year contour-mapping of two-thirds of the island will be completed. Personnel of all crews has been selected.

Two parties are already in the field—one under F. C. Swannell handling the main triangulation of the southern tip of the island, and another under N. C. Stewart which will complete the mapping of Strathcona Park.

Tomorrow G. J. Jackson will take a group to the northwestern tip of the island, and he will be followed Thursday and Friday by parties in charge of R. C. McCaw and A. J. Campbell, who will cover the area between Jordan River and San Juan, and between San Juan and Barkley Sound on the west coast.

The west coast work will be of value in plotting the new route of the west coast road along the ocean.

The aerial photography will also be continued this year by the air force planes.

Under the photo-topography mapping system worked out by the provincial branch, in which aerial pictures are used in conjunction with ground photographs and triangulation, costs of the topographical surveys have been considerably reduced.

F. C. Green, surveyor-general, estimates that mapping of the rough island territory is being done for half what it cost to do the comparatively easy Okanagan area by the old methods.

Vancouver Island has an area, roughly, of 13,500 square miles. By the end of the year about 9,000 square miles will have been done.

INDIAN HERO'S
BODY IS FOUNDJacob Chipps, 74, Achieved
Fame By Saving Two Bodies in 1907 Wreck

The body of Jacob Chipps, 74-year-old Esquimalt Indian, whose courage earned him a decoration from the Royal Humane Society in 1907 as the result of his attempt to save two lives from drowning, was found yesterday in waters off the Indian reserve.

Recognition of the society was given his feat of bringing ashore his daughter and granddaughter after a boating tragedy off Point Grey and it was not until he got them ashore that he learned they were drowned.

Chipps had been missing since May 11, when he set out for the reservation in his canoe. Since that time his canoe and cap were found but no trace had been seen of him.

His body was found yesterday by Edgar Carter, 721 Admirals Road, and George Buckingham, 1238 Esquimalt Road.

He is survived by his widow at home, a sister, Mrs. Williams Gibbs, at Clo-ose, a nephew and a cousin, Mary George, at Sooke. Funeral services will be conducted from Sands Mortuary tomorrow, with Rev. Father A. B. Wood officiating at the graveside in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Fewer Pedestrians
Counted This Year

There were 5 per cent fewer pedestrians on the streets of the business section of Victoria the last Saturday of June this year than the same day last year, George A. Okell, city assessor and collector, estimated this morning, following Saturday's count by 40 enumerators.

The count was taken between 11 o'clock and noon and between 4 and 5 in the afternoon. Three corners of Yates and Douglas showed fewer pedestrians than last year.

The north side of Fort Street, however, between Douglas and Blanshard Streets, was up approximately 10 per cent, Mr. Okell said.

Chamber Hears
Dr. S. F. TolmieMember Reviews Legislation and Debates Affecting Victoria

A brief review of the legislation and debates of the House of Commons at its last session, especially as far as they affected Victoria, was given to directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their annual meeting today by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P.

Dr. Tolmie congratulated the chamber on the manner in which it had pressed Victoria's needs during the year, and stressed the value of such support from his constituency to a member of the House.

In connection with defence legislation, Dr. Tolmie spoke of the special case of Esquimalt in regard to the extent of Dominion Government tax-free property within its borders, and said he had pressed the case with Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, so that a special committee had been appointed, whose report would await the minister on his return from Britain shortly.

Dr. Tolmie spoke at some length on the discussion which had arisen in the House on the matter of the fish traps at Sooke, and said: "It is important to maintain those traps if we hope to get our fair share of the fish that are spawned in the Fraser River." The Sooke traps, he explained, took only 2.5 per cent of those fish, against 62.5 per cent caught by United States operators and 35 per cent by other Canadian fishermen.

FREE PORT QUESTION

He urged the chamber to continue a study of the free port question and of Victoria's particular needs, although it had appeared from cabinet opposition to the free port bill in the House that the granting of such privileges was contrary to the policy of the present government, and he did not believe the question would be again introduced for some time to come.

Dr. Tolmie reviewed briefly the debate over the proposed raising of harbor dues, and explained how a readjustment of the new scale had been obtained. He believed still further small changes would be necessary in the future. He congratulated the chamber for its prompt action on the question.

He spoke shortly on the subject of the proposal for a federal building here, aviation, and the readjustment of afternoon mail services from the mainland.

Harold Husband introduced Dr. Tolmie. Duncan MacBride tendered the thanks of the chamber at the conclusion of his address.

R. J. Leckie, Vancouver, spoke briefly in connection with the new minimum wage regulations for the building industry, and said a great change had come over the attitude of contractors on this subject during the last few years. British Columbia was the first province to enact such legislation, he added.

George Beck urged city merchants to support the city's anniversary committee and the Fish and Game Protective Association of Victoria in their plans for a flycasting competition to be held in Beacon Hill Park on July 10. It was hoped to make the contest an annual event, he said.

Greetings From Honolulu Mayor

Greetings and best wishes from the people of Honolulu to the citizens of Victoria are contained in a letter received at the City Hall today by Mayor Andrew McGavin from Mayor George F. Wright of Honolulu.

Some weeks ago Mayor McGavin forwarded to Mayor Wright a gold medal and cup, which he asked the first citizen of Honolulu to present to Mrs. Herman von Holt for her fishing prowess at Brentwood last summer.

"It is needless for me to say that Mrs. von Holt was highly delighted at receiving these trophies when I presented them to her," Mayor Wright said in his letter to Mayor McGavin.

LONG MURDER HUNT AT END

Robert Irwin Held For Gedeon Slayings in New York; Surrendered

NEW YORK—Robert Irwin, debonair one-time divinity student turned sculptor, held without bail today after two brief court appearances, hired a well-known criminal lawyer to defend him against the triple slaying on Beekman Hill Easter Sunday.

Samuel Leibowitz, who has defended 123 persons in first degree murders trials without a client going to the electric chair, announced the eccentric young man had retained him as counsel and immediately won a postponement of arraignment until June 30.

Irwin, held for the "manual strangulation" of beautiful Veronica Gedeon, artists' model, and her mother and the ice pick slaying of a man roomer in the Gedeon home, was before the magistrate in homicide court barely half a minute.

Previously, he had appeared in a police line-up—outwardly calm—for only a minute.

The law acted swiftly. A minute and half—in line-up to homicide court—and the 29-year-old artist was rushed to the Tombs to await the next scene in the drama begun when he fell violently in love with the sister of "Ronnie."

KILLED "ACCIDENTALLY"

It was because of this love, which paradoxically engendered hate, Irwin said, that he was forced to kill "accidentally" the two women and the man that Sunday three months ago.

Irwin was quoted as saying he went to the apartment intending to kill the model's sister, Mrs. Ethel Kunder, and no one else. Mrs. Kunder did not show up that night.

He said Mrs. Gedeon was there when he arrived. After a bit, she told him to leave. He choked her to death. He didn't intend to, he said. It was just an accident. Then Ronnie came home and recognized him. Her death meant his safety, for a while at least. Then he thought Byrnes, sleeping in the next room, might have discovered the two slayings. Byrnes was stabbed.

He waived reading of the affidavit charging him with suspicion of homicide.

Yesterday, Leibowitz said, Irwin sent him two telegrams from Chicago asking the lawyer to become his counsel.

It was in Chicago that Irwin surrendered to The Herald and Examiner after fleeing from Cleveland when a kitchen maid in a hotel where he worked as a bus boy, recognized him as the man hunted far and wide for the three slayings.

Dr. A. H. O'Connor of the Rockland State Hospital for the insane, where Irwin was once a patient, appeared in magistrate's court today and talked with Leibowitz.

BREAKING DOWN

Afterward, the doctor said "Irwin is going down fast mentally. He is breaking fast under the strain."

But to outward appearances, the sculptor gave no indication of this.

Acting Police Captain John Leahy read a statement for the information of detectives that Irwin was being held for the slayings.

Then Leahy said: "Robert, you made a statement to the assistant district attorney, didn't you?"

"Yes, sir," Irwin replied calmly.

"Were you ever arrested before?"

"I was arrested once before. I think it was in 1931."

"The record," said Leahy, "shows 1931—third degree assault. Is that right?"

"Yes, sir."

And that was all.

GRAND JURY HEARING

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine and District Attorney William C. Dodge said the grand jury would be asked tomorrow for an indictment. Dodge said he expected one immediately and "there will be an early trial."

The district attorney said he would prosecute the case himself, contending Irwin is and was legally sane. He said he anticipated an insanity defence from Leibowitz.

Dodge said he expected to be aided by Dr. Perry Lichenstein, a psychiatrist on the district attorney's staff.

Valentine and Dodge said the grand jury would be given detailed statements which Irwin dictated to The Herald and Examiner in Chicago, confessing the three slayings, as well as additional statements made to Chicago and New York police.

Irwin was arrested in Chicago yesterday more than 12 hours after he had surrendered in the newspaper office. He waived extradition and was brought here by plane last night.

Rails Decline In Quiet Trading On Wall Street Today

NEW YORK—A further decline in rails found the stock market vulnerable today and losses of fractions to two or more points followed an early rally.

Disappointment in some financial circles over carried earnings trends paved the way for selling in rails. Meanwhile despite the back-to-work movement at strike-affected steel mills, Wall Street said continued disputes between employers and workers cast a shadow over the industrial profit outlook. Weakness in bonds discouraged traders, it was said.

The slow pace of trading on the decline, however, was seen by analysts as an indication traders were still in a comparatively calm mood.

Transactions approximated 650,000 shares.

The market's speculative instinct was dormant, observers said, being illustrated by seeming indifference of farm implement shares to the uprush of heat, the full allowable limit of 5 cents a bushel for some options.

It finished 3/4 to 3/8 cents a bushel higher. Corn was up 1/4 cents to 3/4 cents. Cotton was mixed.

The French franc and pound sterling were narrow.

The drop in carriers was explained by experts in terms of preliminary estimates of May revenue for class one systems showing a substantial upturn in operating expenses, this indicated, some said, the industry probably operated at a small loss for the month.

Exeter's Planes Will Fly Here

Flight manoeuvres by the two "Walrus" amphibian flying boats carried aboard H.M.S. Exeter will be witnessed by Victorians following the arrival of the British light cruiser at Esquimalt on July 23.

The flying boats are of the latest type carried by British cruisers for reconnaissance, spotting and high bombing at sea.

They are catapulted from the mother ship, land alongside and are hoisted aboard by crane.

This type is built by Super-Marine Aviation of Southampton, England, and are powered with a Bristol Pegasus engine similar to those used in the new Empire flying boats.

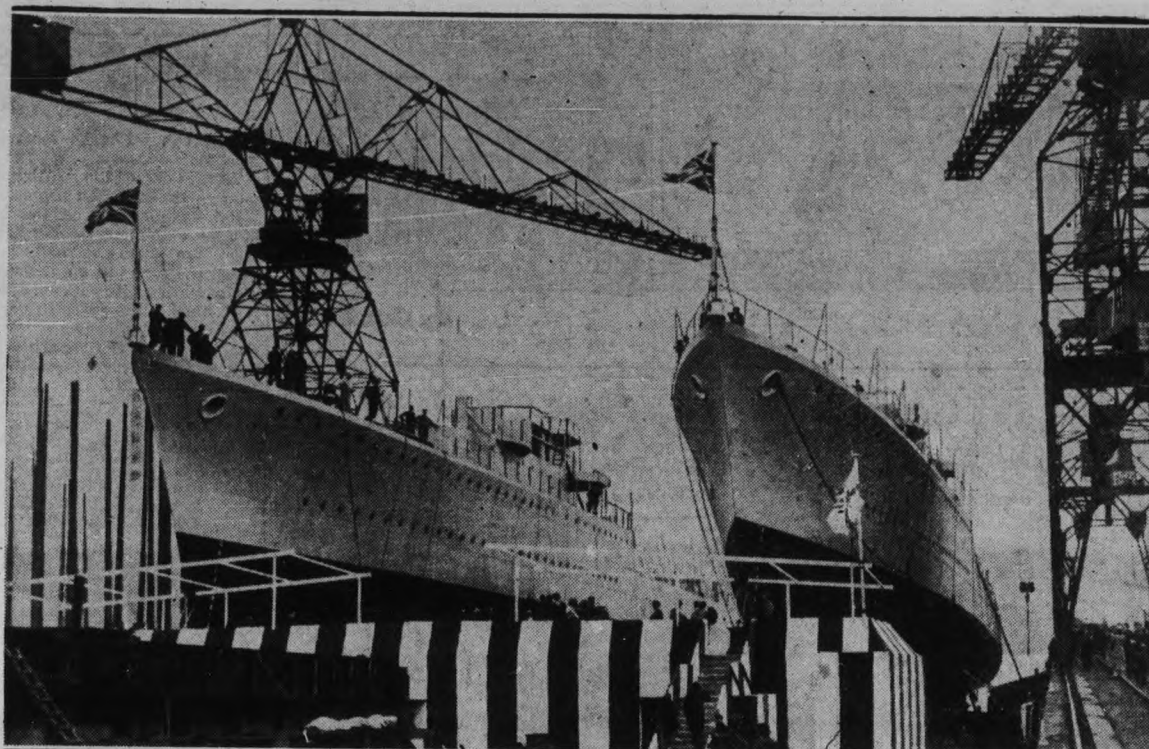

The two planes carried by the Exeter will fly over Victoria during the stay of the ship here, and may go to Vancouver in connection with the air show there late next month.

NOTICE TO MARINERS International Rules of the Road—Suggested Changes Not in Effect

It has been brought to the attention of the department that some masters of vessels, and vessel owners, are under the impression that the suggested changes in the international rules of the road, appended as Annex II to the Canada Shipping Act of 1934, are now in effect. This is not the case.

Masters of vessels and vessel owners are hereby advised that the international rules of the road that have been in force for the last 40 years, and which came into effect on and from the first day of July, 1897, are still in effect.

Two Large Destroyers Take To Water

Forty Rescued From Fire-swept Steamer

Ss. President Pierce Picks Up Crew of Derelict Sandgate Castle at Sea

NEW YORK—Another thrilling rescue at sea had been written into maritime records as the steamship President Pierce voyaged toward New York today after saving the 40 crew members of the fire-swept British freighter Sandgate Castle.

Forced from their ship approximately 650 miles southeast of New York, the British sailors tossed about in lifeboats for more than eight hours until the President Pierce reached them near midnight, Saturday-Sunday.

Their ship, which sailed June 22 from New York with a general cargo for Capetown, Africa, was a fire blackened derelict when the President Pierce arrived in response to a radioed appeal for aid.

Flames which swept through the 7,364-ton Sandgate Castle broke out between decks. After a futile fight against the fire the crew was ordered into boats and the freighter abandoned.

The President Pierce picked up the ship's boats.

The liner reported the Sandgate Castle had burned itself out and was floating low in the Atlantic swells, a menace to navigation.

The rescue ship was due here today.

Presentation To MacArthur

VANCOUVER—Officers and men of the Vancouver division of the Canadian Pacific Railway honored their chief, J. M. MacArthur, superintendent of the division for the last five years, at a complimentary dinner in Hotel Vancouver Saturday night.

Representatives of all branches of the division service attended from all parts of the division between Kamloops and Vancouver to bid farewell to Mr. MacArthur on the eve of his departure to Edmonton, where on July 1 he will take over the post of general manager of the Northern Alberta Railways, succeeding John Callaghan, retired.

An Aero-pack traveling case, a brief case and matched set of shirt studs and cuff links were presented on behalf of the division by G. B. Bentz, dispatcher at North Bend. G. L. McCrea, assistant superintendent, Vancouver, was chairman.

Speakers included Dave Nicks, general yard master, Vancouver; A. M. Innes, wharf freight agent; John Brodie, speaking for the freight handlers, and Horace MacKey on behalf of engineers and other train service organizations. Each referred to Mr. MacArthur's popularity, his gentlemanly qualities, efficient administration and fair dealing.

While he regretted leaving Vancouver, where he spent five happy years, Mr. MacArthur said he none the less looked forward pleasantly to his new post in Edmonton, although the northern part of Alberta was not as well-known to him as the southern part, where he was stationed earlier, from 1913 to 1916, as assistant superintendent at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Calgary, and as superintendent at Medicine Hat from 1918 to 1930.

Sea tonic IN THE MOUNTAINS

ALASKA

Only an Alaska trip, among all Canadian vacations, combines the two: gigantic mountain grandeur, and the spirited tang of the sea.

Sheer-walled fjords usher you a thousand miles, on a glassy ocean, to Skagway and the land of endless days. Sailing with the PRINCE ROBERT, PRINCE GEORGE or PRINCE RUPERT, you are surrounded with every sea-going comfort. All outside staterooms. Deck sports. Dancing and nightly entertainment.

Rest up and live this summer—on B.C.'s most colorful cruise-vacation! Ask today for the new Alaska booklet.

$9500 and up, round trip from Victoria or Vancouver on PRINCE RUPERT or PRINCE GEORGE. $115 and upward on the PRINCE ROBERT.
